Chicago Tonight correspondent Rich Samuels blogs from the roof of the Hilton Hotel overlooking Grant Park as he covers Election Night 2008.

Annual Report 2008

Dear Members,

In the historic election year of 2008, the city of Chicago was the focus of the world as it had never been before. For the first time since the Civil War, America elected a president from Illinois—not only the first African-American, but the first Chicagoan. And WTTW's Chicago Tonight was there every step of the way, connecting our viewers to the local and national political scene with candidate forums, insightful analysis, in-person reports from the convention floor, personal videos, photos, and blogs, and coverage of the unprecedented election night celebration from a unique vantage point. On the night that the world came to Chicago, we truly did our city proud. And it reminded me that without some of the technological advances we've made, it could never have happened.

Winston Churchill once said that "a pessimist sees difficulty in every opportunity and an optimist sees the opportunity in every difficulty." He could have been envisioning today's media world. Twelve years ago, when WTTW and broadcasters nationwide were mandated by the federal government to convert to digital, the task seemed daunting, not to mention exorbitantly expensive—nearly $20 million for WTTW alone. In addition to raising capital campaign funds, we received a generous gift from The Grainger Foundation to complete the complex digital conversion effort. Our engineers worked overtime to research the upgrades that would be needed, building a new master control and editing suites, installing new switchers, purchasing high definition cameras, audio, and lighting equipment—and to train themselves to use all of this new technology. And then there was another formidable task—educating and informing our viewers. Our communications, marketing, and broadcasting teams, mindful that public television viewers are perhaps the most vulnerable, came together to coordinate an awareness campaign. Finally, after all these years of preparation, on June 12, television stations will turn off their analog channels and begin to broadcast exclusively in the digital format.

They say every cloud has a silver lining, and digital television is no exception. The conversion will allow broadcasters to offer a number of new and better services. Now you'll see all of your favorite shows—Chicago Tonight, Antiques Roadshow, NOVA, Sesame Street, WordWorld, and many others—in a whole new light, with a dramatically sharper picture, more vivid color, and better sound quality. And now WTTW can offer several channels at once—WTTWHD, V-me, Create and WTTW Prime. The sky is the limit on the amount of quality content now available on not one, but four WTTW channels.

Although today we are getting news and information on our computers, iPods, Blackberries, and cell phones, the television is still the hearth of our living rooms, the family gathering place where we turn to be inspired, informed, and entertained. When we recently called our chief engineer to ask about conversion mandate details, he couldn't contain his pride. "You know, WTTW broadcast the very first high-def program in 1982—Playin' Chicago—and in 2002, we were the first in Chicago to have a separate schedule of high-def programming on WTTWHD." For 53 years, we have taken our reputation as technical pioneers very seriously, and we continue to do so. So stay tuned as you continue to see your beloved programs on WTTW and hear your favorite symphonies on 98.7WFMT with extraordinary clarity.

Daniel J. Schmidt, President & CEO

Chicago's premier public television station reaches two million viewers a month. Founded in 1955, WTTW is proud to present a variety of public affairs, performing and visual arts, nature, science, and how-to programming, and an award-winning children's schedule. Although our primary focus has been uniquely local, we continue to produce programs for a national and international audience. Our media organization provides quality programming on four distinct channels—WTTW11, WTTWD, the how-to channel Create, and V-me, our Spanish-language public television channel.

WTTW11 Donor Events

Lunch & Learn

This spring, a group of WTTW friends had the opportunity to meet Winnetka native Mike Leonard, the Today Show correspondent and creator of the popular public television series The Ride of Our Lives. Leonard shared clips of the funny and moving program (based on his best-selling memoir of the same name), and told wonderful stories about his family and their travels together.

Celebrate the American Song

Award-winning artists and Chicago natives Ann Hampton Callaway and Christine Ebersole took center stage on May 21 at the WTTW11/98.7WFMT fundraising gala Celebrate the American Song. The program, titled Singer's Spotlight with Ann Hampton Callaway, aired on WTTW11 in August.

Taste of Check, Please!

On May 15, an unprecedented 630 guests gathered at the WTTW Studios to enjoy the fifth annual Taste of Check, Please! Hosted by Alpana Singh, the event featured eclectic cuisine from 30 Chicago-area restaurants reviewed on the popular weekly series. Guests also enjoyed music from vocalist/songwriter Dee Alexander in the VIP room, and the Joe Valentino Band entertained in the main party area. This year, WTTW partnered with the Greater Chicago Food Depository, asking guests to bring a donation of non-perishable food items to help feed the hungry across Cook County.

Arts Across Illinois: CenterStage

The Springfield Ballet, jazz vocalist Semanya McCord, and puppeteers Blair Thomas & Co. were among the artists seen and heard on Arts Across Illinois: CenterStage, that aired on WTTW on June 19. The program is part of the Arts Across Illinois series on WTTW, which is made possible by the Illinois Arts Council, and features artists, arts organizations, and community groups supported by the state agency.

WTTW Kids Fun and Run

Elmo, Grover, and WTTW's very own "Dog" from WordWorld were just a few of the popular characters that could be found at the WTTW Kids Fun and Run, which drew more than 4,000 children and adults to Chicago's Lincoln Park on August 24. The family event featured a 3K walk/5K run, games, activities, music from the acclaimed band "Milkshake," and much more. More than 1,000 children and their families visited WTTW's Super Readers tent, generously supported by the Early Learning Initiative, enjoyed free musical performances by the WTTW Kids Great Food Fan Van's Miss Lori and Sandi Sylver, and received a free children's book. Children transformed into "Super Readers" while creating their own eye masks and super capes. The Chicago Public Library was also on hand to assist families with library card registration.

More Fast Food My Way

Chef, author, and public television host Jacques Pépin visited Chicago to premiere his new television series and cookbook Jacques Pépin: More Fast Food My Way. Guests at the historic Blackstone Hotel were treated to a sumptuous lunch based on his recipes, plus stories from his life and the inspirations behind his creations.

Luncheon and Book Signing with Newton N. Minow

In October, WTTW partnered with the Union League Club of Chicago for a special reception and luncheon with WTTW Trustee Emeritus and television pioneer Newton N. Minow, who sat down with John Callaway for a timely and provocative interview about his new book, Inside the Presidential Debates: Their Improbable Past and Promising Future. Newt signed complimentary copies of his book for an audience of appreciative donors.

Now That the Election's Over, What's Next?

Judy Woodruff, public television senior correspondent and 2008 political editor for The NewsHour with Jim Lehrer, met with WTTW viewers and Duke alumni at two special events held on November 16 and 17, during which she shared an inside view of what the new political administration will look like and how it will affect Chicago. The gatherings took place at the Gleacher Center and at the home of a WTTW donor.

Chicago's Lakefront

Geoffrey Baer's newest tour program Chicago's Lakefront was showcased in September at an intimate donor event at the beautiful lakefront home of Barbara Bluhm-Kaul and Don Kaul. Approximately 30 guests enjoyed a screening and lecture by Geoffrey, who shared anecdotes about the filming and outlined some of the sweeping changes that have occurred on Chicago's shoreline since his initial tour program a decade ago.

Community Outreach

Prix Jeunesse International Film Festival

In March 2008, WTTW was given the unique opportunity to host the only American youth jury for the premier worldwide festival honoring excellence in children's television. Twelve teens participated in a two-day screening and judging of 16 international films from Argentina, Canada, Chile, Colombia, Finland, Germany, Iran, Ireland, Netherlands, Sweden, and the United Kingdom targeted at children aged 11-15. The young jurists were supervised and moderated by WTTW staff, Facets Multimedia Children's Film Festival, and the American Center for Children and Media.

Día De Los Niños Event at UIC Pavilion

Partnering with the Consortium to Lower Obesity in Chicago's Children, WTTW participated in this healthy lifestyle event (at the UIC Pavilion in April), which was attended by more than 5,000 mostly Hispanic families and 25 Chicago organizations. The WTTW Kids booth provided children an opportunity to move along with their favorite Sesame Street characters, participate in mini-workshops and games, and take home Healthy Habits for Life materials and children's books.

Please Vote for Me

In May 2008, WTTW partnered with the McCormick Tribune Freedom Museum to host a screening of the Independent Lens documentary Please Vote For Me. Sixty Chicago public high school students participated in the event, which also included a roundtable exercise about candidates and voting, discussion about the election process, lunch, and a museum tour. Students learned interesting political facts, enjoyed hands-on exhibits, and received a behind-the-scenes perspective of a presidential campaign. Student representatives from the Mikva Challenge organization were present to share the impact of their experience as campaign volunteers; this event also offered eligible students the opportunity to register to vote.

WTTW Kids Great Food Fan Van

In May 2008, parents and children of all ages were treated to a healthy surprise as the WTTW Kids Great Food Fan Van travelled throughout Chicagoland and Indiana to promote healthy eating. With visits at select retail grocery stores including Jewel, Dominick's, Sunset Foods, Treasure Island, and Whole Foods, the Fan Van team presented fun, educational mini-festivals that promoted healthy food options in an outdoor setting.

The entertainment was provided by Miss Lori's Campus, who performed an original song written and produced about the benefits of healthy eating. Attendees tested their nutrition knowledge by participating in fun trivia games and storytelling, and participating vendors were on site to give away healthy food samples and complimentary products. The WTTW Kids Great Food Fan Van was made possible by support from Organic Valley, Whole Bakers, Doctor Kracker, Chiquita Brand Foods, and Traditional Medicinal Teas.

Clifford and Curious George at Lincoln Park Zoo

Children and their families were delighted to meet Clifford the Big Red Dog and Curious George at the Lincoln Park Zoo family picnic in June 2008. This appearance provided WTTW the opportunity to build excitement for the WTTW Kids Fun & Run, as well as promote the summer line-up of WTTW Kids programming.

Medal of Honor

On October 15, WTTW partnered with the Pritzker Military Library and Boeing to host a screening of the national PBS documentary Medal of Honor. Producer/director Roger Sherman introduced his film to 100 Pritzker, WTTW, and Boeing invited guests. The film follows 13 living recipients of the Medal of Honor as they tell their unforgettable stories. This documentary about finding courage and succeeding against overwhelming odds transported audiences to the battlegrounds of Little Round Top, World War I, World War II, Korea, Vietnam, and Iraq.

Field Museum Character Appearances

WTTW Kids walk-around characters made appearances at the Field Museum's Crown Family Play Lab monthly Family Field Days. In addition to photos with their favorite characters, hundreds of children participated in hands-on activities, received bookmarks and stickers, and enjoyed a day exploring the museum and its newly installed early learner exhibits. Character appearances included Curious George, Arthur, and Clifford the Big Red Dog.

Spring Into Learning Educators Seminar

The WTTW Kids Early Learning Initiative partnered with the Chicago Public School's Office of Specialized Services, STARNET Region V to provide more than 60 educators with professional development workshops at WTTW studios. The workshops included Parenting Counts, Be A Super Reader with Super Why, Zula Patrol: Ready, Set-Science!, Lessons from Between the Lions, Differentiated Learning, and Recognizing Literacy Problems Early. In partnership with CPS, each early childhood professional also received CPDU teacher training credit hours for attending.

Parenting Counts

Funded by a grant from Talaris Institute, members of the WTTW Kids Early Learning Initiative received facilitator training in Seattle to provide free parent workshops to families at participating YMCAs, which are being scheduled for winter 2009.
