ALSO INSIDE
On WTTW this month, don’t miss premieres of Jane Austen’s unfinished novel Sanditon, E.M. Forster’s Howards End, and the distinctly Freudian Vienna Blood.
Dear Member,

Happy New Year! WFMT kicks off the decade with Saturday Morning Listener’s Choice, a new weekly family-friendly (all ages!) classical request and dedication show hosted by WFMT’s Maggie Clennon Reberg. On the premiere episode (January 4 at 8:00 am), Maggie welcomes two Chicago notables: renowned violinist Rachel Barton Pine and her young daughter (and budding violinist) Sylvia, and together, they will encourage listeners to weigh in (on wfmt.com, Facebook and Twitter, and via phone) with requests. And at 9:00 am, we debut another new program, Soundtrack, highlighting film, television, and video game music.

On WTTW, January is a time of renewal as popular series return with new episodes of Check, Please! and Finding Your Roots. Of special note is a trio of new series: Jane Austen’s unfinished novel Sanditon, E.M. Forster’s Howards End, and the distinctly Freudian Vienna Blood – watch them all and follow our recaps on wttw.com.

This month WFMT will mark Martin Luther King Day and the Lunar New Year with special programming, and will welcome back a series featuring Gustavo Dudamel and the Los Angeles Philharmonic. And, on wfmt.com, we’ll share some warmhearted musical fun to chase the cold away, preview our new Saturday morning programming, and take you to the Chicago Cultural Center for new concerts.

Thank you for choosing to spend January with us and for your support.

Sincerely,

Sandra Cordova Micek
President & CEO

Dame Myra Hess Memorial Concerts
Join WFMT each Wednesday for the Dame Myra Hess Memorial Concerts, live from Preston Bradley Hall in the Chicago Cultural Center. Enjoy solo recitals and ensemble performances by emerging classical artists, produced by the International Music Foundation. Featured this month: pianists Natalie Vargas Nedvetsky, Christopher Goodpasture, and Kuang Hao-Huang; and violinists Stephen Kim and Danbi Um. The series is named for British pianist Myra Hess, who organized free lunchtime concerts for Londoners during World War II.
These are free events; for information, please visit wfmt.com.

Winter Wonderland at Kohl Children’s Museum
Meet the popular WTTW Kids character Nature Cat at Winter Wonderland, Kohl Children’s Museum’s annual seasonal funfest. For one night only, Kohl offers a variety of special children’s activities, including rides through the holiday lights in Habitat Park aboard the museum’s polar express kiddy train; a DJ and Dance Party; juggling performances by the Amazing Jason; appearances by Nature Cat, Elsa and Anna from Frozen, and Paddington; make-and-take snow dough and silk-screening in Kohl’s art studio; access to all 16 indoor exhibits, and free coffee, hot chocolate, and cookies provided by Safe + Fair. For more information and to purchase tickets, please visit wttw.com/events.

The First Rainbow Coalition – Screening and Discussion
WTTW, ITVS, Independent Lens, and the Department of Cultural Affairs and Special Events present an Indie Lens Pop-Up screening and discussion of The First Rainbow Coalition.
In 1969, the Chicago Black Panther Party began to form alliances across lines of race and ethnicity with other community-based movements in the city to confront issues such as police brutality and substandard housing. They called themselves the Rainbow Coalition, and it created a permanent shift in Chicago politics and served as an organizing model for future activists and politicians across the nation.
A panel discussion will follow the screening. This is a free event; registration is required. For more information and to reserve your spot, please visit wttw.com/events.

Chicago by ‘L’ with Geoffrey Baer – Screening & Discussion
Chicago’s favorite tour guide is back with a new adventure! Join Geoffrey Baer at the WTTW studios for a sneak preview of his upcoming special, Chicago by ‘L,’ in which he hops on the CTA’s famous Red, Blue, Green, Brown, Orange, Yellow, Pink, and Purple Lines to bring you a fascinating exploration of the colorful and diverse neighborhoods that Chicagoans access via the city’s storied elevated train system. In advance of its March premiere, Geoffrey and the program’s producer Eddie Griffin will screen extended excerpts from the show and share stories about the history of the ‘L,’ introducing you to the neighborhoods and businesses that grew up around it and the people who live and work in its shadow.
During this lively event (your pick of afternoon or evening), Geoffrey, Eddie, and CTA historians in vintage uniforms will answer questions about the ‘L’ and Chicago! And you’ll meet a surprise guest whose voice you’ll recognize if you ride the ‘L’ regularly. Enjoy appetizers, beer, wine, and plentiful free parking. To purchase tickets, please visit wttw.com/events.
$10 Off Tickets to Rose Valley Theatre’s Sunday Evening

Rose Valley Theatre Group presents the English-language world premiere of Zachary Karabashliev’s award-winning play, Sunday Evening — the story of two families lost in deep conflict, misunderstandings, and personal betrayal. Directed by Rose Valley Artistic Director Zlatomir Moldovanski and featuring an all-Chicago cast, Sunday Evening intertwines the illusion of the American Dream with the reality of everyday existence.

To redeem this special offer, use code WTTW when purchasing tickets at greenhousetheater.org/sundayevening or by calling (773) 404-7336. Valid for performances January 16 through February 10. Valid on up to four full-priced tickets, subject to availability; not applicable on previously purchased tickets or with other discounts or offers, some additional fees may apply.

$10 Off Porchlight Music Theatre’s Duke Ellington’s Sophisticated Ladies

Award-winning Porchlight Music Theatre presents a celebration of the artist many consider “the most important composer in the history of jazz.” This stylish salute to “The Duke” will transport audiences on a high-stepping, dynamic journey through the life and times of one of America’s greatest showmen. This elegant, Tony Award-nominated entertainment features Ellington's biggest hits.

To redeem this special offer, use code WTTW when purchasing tickets at PorchlightMusicTheatre.org or by calling (312) 777-9884. Valid for performances February 1 - 29 at Ruth Page Center for the Performing Arts, 1016 N. Dearborn Avenue in Chicago. Previews not included, valid on up to four tickets, subject to availability; not applicable on previously purchased tickets or with other discounts or offers, some additional fees may apply.

2-for-1 Tickets to Kimberly Bartosik/daela

Kimberly Bartosik, former dancer with Merce Cunningham Dance Company, and her company Kimberly Bartosik/daela make their Chicago debut, presented by the Dance Center of Columbia College Chicago. Bartosik’s collaborative work I hunger for you is a reflection on faith and its power to transform the body, creating a space where internalized forces of faith pulse through dancers’ bodies, which restlessly, tenderly and violently confront one another.

WTTW members may purchase two tickets for the price of one, subject to availability, for any performance by calling (312) 369-8330 and using the code 33463. Kimberly Bartosik/daela performs I hunger for you Thursday-Saturday, January 30-February 1 at 7:30 pm at the Dance Center, 1306 S. Michigan Avenue in Chicago. Young cheetahs

Nature: The Cheetah Children

Life on the African plains is a constant struggle, but for a single mother rearing her offspring, the odds seem to be stacked against them. This is an inspiring tale about motherhood and family, as we follow a cheetah family on the grasslands through the eyes of conservationist and cameraman Kim Wolhuter. Watch as the inquisitive cubs explore the world around them and discover their place in the forests of Zimbabwe.

The Los Angeles Philharmonic and Gustavo Dudamel

Thirteen weeks of concerts from the Los Angeles Philharmonic will launch this month. Music director Gustavo Dudamel leads the season opener, which contains one of the pieces the orchestra commissioned for its 2018-19 centennial season: Andrew Norman’s Sustain. Later this month, another centennial commission is led by Roderick Cox: Christopher Cerrone’s The Insects Became Magnetic, combining electronics with a standard symphony that includes such non-standard sounds as harmonicas and vibraphones played with bows. Also guest-conducting is Michael Tilson Thomas, visiting from San Francisco, who opens his program with his own composition Four Preludes on Playthings of the Wind. The poetry is by Carl Sandburg, and the guest mezzo-soprano soloist is Measha Brueggergosman.

Camilla Nylund

Live from the Metropolitan Opera: Der Rosenkavalier
Sir Simon Rattle conducts this production of Strauss’ Viennese comedy, with Camilla Nylund as the Marschallin, Magdalena Kozena as Octavian, and bass Günther Groissböck as Baron Ochs. The setting is updated from the 18th century to the year 1911, the year the opera was first performed; thus, we see a Vienna only a few years from the cataclysm of World War I. A Chicago favorite, tenor Matthew Polenzani, makes a cameo appearance as the Italian Singer.

Live from the Metropolitan Opera: Wozzeck
A new production of Alban Berg’s Wozzeck, regarded as one of the greatest operas of the 20th century, comes to us from the Met this month; also look for it in select theaters. The company’s music director, Yannick Nézet-Séguin, is the conductor with baritone Peter Mattei in the title role and Elza van der Heever in the role of Marie. In the Met’s words, Wozzeck was “a sensation and a scandal” at its 1925 Berlin premiere, following the premiere performance, LA Phil/Juanjo Mena. Chandos CHAN-10633. [11:55]

From the Metropolitan Opera: La Traviata
Most of Giuseppe Verdi’s operas are set in long-ago, romanticized eras: the Middle Ages, even ancient Rome. A notable exception is La Traviata, first seen in Venice in 1853; its setting is Paris in the mid-19th century, based loosely on the life of an actual Parisian courtesan immortalized by Alexandre Dumas as “the lady of the camellias.” This Verdi operatic favorite returns to the Met in a production first mounted last season, with Aleksandra Kurzak as Violetta, Dmytro Popov as Alfredo, and Quinn Kelsey as the elder Germont.

From the Metropolitan Opera: La Bohème

The Metropolitan Opera’s website bills Puccini’s La Bohème as “the world’s most popular opera.” Probably few would disagree. Last fall, the company presented it with Matthew Polenzani as the poet Rodolfo and Ailin Perez as the flower-seller Mimi. We follow them through their romantic meeting, their Christmas Eve night on the town, their wintertime struggles, and Mimi’s final, fatal illness. Surrounding them are their friends with their own problems—the painter Marcello (David Bizic) and the singer-courtesan Musetta (Olga Kulchinska). Marco Armiliato conducts.

2020 JANUARY | 31
A journey through 5,000 years

SHEN YUN presents an epic production that expands the theatrical experience across time and space. We invite you on an inspiring journey into one of humanity’s greatest treasures—five millennia of Chinese civilization.

Featuring one of the world’s oldest art forms—classical Chinese dance—along with patented interactive backdrops and all-original orchestral compositions, SHEN YUN brings to life ancient China’s enchanting beauty and profound wisdom.

“It is breathtaking! I am walking away deeply inspired and profoundly moved!”
—Rita Cosby, Emmy Award-winning journalist

“The energy, the precision, the beauty... I’m just overwhelmed. It’s so beautiful!”
—John Anthony, retired judge

I’ve reviewed about 4,000 shows. None can compare to what I saw tonight.”
—Richard Connema, theater critic
