From the President & CEO

Dear Member,

This month, we are excited to bring you the latest masterpiece from Ken Burns – an epic 16-hour series tracing the history of Country Music. As only Ken can tell it, hear the story of this quintessentially American art form and how it evolved over the course of the 20th century through biographies of its most notable trailblazers. Also, don’t miss a lively star-studded concert special featuring contemporary country legends hosted by Ken from Nashville’s Ryman Auditorium, and visit our special website at wttw.com/countrymusic.

Also on WTTW, we bid farewell to the popular comedy-drama series 800 Words and embark on the final seasons of Poldark and Durrells in Corfu. On wttw.com, meet the real people who inspired the Durrells’ characters; look back at a 100-year-old scandal, when the “Black Sox” were accused of intentionally losing the 1919 World Series; and remember the Chicago-based WLS’s National Barn Dance, a popular country music radio program in the ’30s and ’40s.

On WFMT, enjoy four performances from London’s great summertime tradition, the BBC Promenade Concerts in Royal Albert Hall. Four performances will air on Tuesday evenings, by the London Philharmonic, the City of Birmingham Symphony, the Vienna Philharmonic, and – for the super-lively Last Night – the BBC Symphony. On wfmt.com, you’ll find a collection of classical music selected by our staff that will help you fall into fall, a fall arts preview, and some classical works with a sense of humor.

Your continued support is very much appreciated, and thanks for choosing WTTW and WFMT.

Sincerely,

Sandra Cordova Micek
President & CEO

Dame Myra Hess Memorial Concerts

Join WFMT each Wednesday for the Dame Myra Hess Memorial Concerts, live from Preston Bradley Hall in the Chicago Cultural Center. Enjoy solo recitals and ensemble performances by emerging classical artists from around the world, produced by the International Music Foundation. Featured artists this month are flutist Geneva Petrucci with pianist Jory Vinikour; violinist Sara Domjanic with pianist Tanya Gabrielen; and Aruna Quartet. Performances take place beneath the world’s largest Tiffany-domed ceiling, part of a landmark building that originally housed the Chicago Public Library. The series is named for British pianist Myra Hess, who organized free lunchtime concerts for Londoners during World War II, in the years of nightly air raids.

These are free events; for information, please visit wfmt.com.

Chicago Tonight Behind the Scenes

Join the all-star Chicago Tonight team at the WTTW studios for a behind-the-scenes look at Springfield and City Hall, and a discussion about how WTTW News covers the vibrant political scene in Chicago and the state. Each ticket includes a presentation, a meet & greet with the hosts and producers, beer, wine, and hors d’oeuvres. Don’t miss this very special event, and reserve your seats now!

Tickets are available at wttw.com/events.

Introductions at Youth Arts Showcase, Live from Millennium Park

WFMT welcomes young musicians to Introductions’ live broadcast from Jay Pritzker Pavilion in Millennium Park, part of the second annual Youth Arts Showcase (YAS! Fest). Attend in person or listen live on WFMT as host Michael San Gabino welcomes a brass ensemble from Merit School of Music and Latin Grammy-nominated Mariachi Herencia de México. In addition to a diverse selection of music, the program will also include interviews with the student musicians, who will join forces to perform a medley of Leonard Bernstein’s iconic music from West Side Story, honoring DCASE’s Year of Chicago Theatre. YAS! Fest is presented by Allstate Insurance Company.

For more information, please visit wfmt.com/events.

POV: The Feeling of Being Watched – Screening & Discussion

WTW and the Department of Cultural Affairs and Special Events present a free screening and discussion of POV: The Feeling of Being Watched.

In the Arab-American neighborhood outside of Chicago where director Assia Boundaoui grew up, most of her neighbors believe they have been under surveillance for over a decade. While investigating their experiences, Assia discovers they were right, as she uncovers hundreds of pages of declassified FBI documents that prove her hometown was the subject of one of the largest counterterrorism investigations ever conducted in the U.S. before 9/11—codenamed “Operation Vulgar Betrayal.”

With unprecedented access, The Feeling of Being Watched weaves the personal and the political as it explores why Assia’s friends and neighbors fell under blanket government surveillance; confronts long-hidden truths about the FBI’s relationship to the community; examines why it feels as if they are still being watched today; and reveals how Assia grapples with the effects of a lifetime of surveillance on herself and her family.

The screening will be followed by a panel discussion. The film airs on WTTW11 and wttw.com on Monday, October 14 at 10:00 pm.

This is a free event. For more information, please visit wttw.com/events.

$5 Off Tickets to Idle Muse Theatre Company’s Equivocation

In the aftermath of the failed Gunpowder Plot of 1605 to assassinate King James I and destroy the British Parliament, playwright William Shakespeare is commissioned by the powerful Lord Robert Cecil to write the “true historie” of the plot...to the particular specifications of His Majesty. As they work to unravel the truth behind the conspiracy, navigating clandestine meetings, betrayals, and brawls, the King’s Men acting company tests just how far they’re willing to go for each other and to speak truth to power. Fact, fiction, politics, and comedy all vie for control in this critically acclaimed dramatic account of an historical national crisis!

For tickets, please visit IdleMuse.org or call (773) 340-9438 and use code WTTW. This offer is valid on $20 tickets to performances at Edge Off Broadway Theatre, 1133 W. Catalpa Avenue in Chicago, through October 20. Valid on up to four tickets, subject to availability; not applicable on previously purchased tickets or with other discounts or offers; some additional fees may apply.

$10 Off Tickets to Lifeline Theatre’s Whose Body?

Lifeline Theatre re-explores this beloved and charming whodunit for a new generation! When a dead body turns up in a bathtub wearing nothing but a pair of pince-nez, amateur detective Lord Peter Wimsey assigns himself to the case. However, when the mystery becomes labyrinthine, he enlists the help of close friend Inspector Parker to follow his only lead, a teaching hospital near the scene of the crime. Could it be a harmless prank by a medical student or something more sinister? Follow the clues and uncover the truth in this beloved 1923 novel by Dorothy L. Sayers.

For tickets, please visit lifelinetheatre.com or call (773) 761-4477 and use code WTTW. This offer is valid for performances at Lifeline Theatre, 6912 North Glenwood in Chicago, through October 27. Valid on up to four full-priced tickets, subject to availability; not applicable on previously purchased tickets or with other discounts or offers; some additional fees may apply.

The Feud: American Experience

The most famous family conflict in American history, the Hatfield-McCoy feud evolved into a mythic American tale of jealousy, rage and revenge – and one which helped create the negative “hillbilly” stereotype that has shaped attitudes towards Appalachia for more than a century. Yet the truth is much more than a tale of two warring families. It is the story of a region and its people forced into sudden change by Eastern capitalists, who transformed Appalachia from an agrarian mountain community into a coal and timber producing workplace owned and run primarily by outside interests.

Sunday 29

Aidan Turner returns as the heroic Ross Poldark for a final season of drama in Cornwall and London, circa 1800, along with Eleanor Tomlinson as Demelza and Jack Farthing as George Warleggan. In the season opener, the Poldarks look forward to life together in peace, but a plea from Ned Despard compels Ross to return to the capital. Back in Cornwall, Demelza encounters a new opponent, and George struggles to engage with the world after Elizabeth’s death.

Sundays beginning September 29, 8:00 pm
The Silence of Others captures the first attempt in 77 years to prosecute crimes of Spain's 40-year dictatorship under General Franco (1939–1975). In a groundbreaking international court case, victims of re-education camps, child abduction, torture, and extra-judicial killings have come together to break their silence and confront perpetrators who, unbeknownst to much of the world, have enjoyed immunity for decades. Through the compelling contemporary story of the case and the personal journeys of several of its plaintiffs, The Silence of Others explores the shadows the past still casts upon the present in Spain.

The Silence of Others

The Silence of Others is a 2013 Spanish drama film directed by Alejandro Amenábar, and written by Amenábar and Rodrigo hyper. The film is set in 1971, during the final years of Spain's Francoist regime. It tells the story of several families who are brought together as they confront the social and political realities of their time, with particular focus on the kidnapping of a six-year-old boy who shocks the police team, and who do everything in their power to crack the case. But Professor T questions the innocence of the child's seemingly distraught parents.

In the Spotlight

The New York Philharmonic This Week: Lenny’s Playlist and Stravinsky

The producers of The New York Philharmonic This Week have compiled some favorite performances from Leonard Bernstein’s long history with the orchestra. One of his own compositions is featured, of course, in this case the Symphonic Dances from West Side Story, conducted by Alan Gilbert. Most of the performances, however, are conducted by “Lenny.” They include: the Glória movement from an historic performance of Beethoven’s Missa Solemnis with the New York Schola Cantorum choir and soloists Eileen Farrell, Shirley Verrett, Jon Vickers, and Donald Bell; works by Barber and Copland to represent Bernstein’s commitment to his fellow American composers; and the lyrical Adagietto movement from Mahler’s Symphony No. 5, reminding us of the conductor’s devotion to Mahler’s music and the work he did to bring it to a wider audience. This month’s Philharmonic presentations also include Stravinsky’s Philharmonic, including a performance of his rarely heard Persephone, which he identified as a “melodrama” because it includes spoken narration along with vocal soloists and choir.

[11:30] 11:00 Franz Schubert Notturno in E-Flat, D. 897 – Anne-Sophie From Carnegie Hall: Timeless Bach and Young Performers Johann Sebastian Bach did not give the title Mass in B Minor to the major work of sacred music that he completed in 1749, a year before his death. Instead, he named the individual sections: Missa (Kyrie and Gloria); Symbolem Nicenem (the Credo, using the words of the Nicene Creed); Sanctus; and Osanna/Benedictus/Agnus Dei/Donob Nicipum (the final portions of the Ordinary of the Latin Mass). Though some of the music was newly composed for the 1749 version, most of the music in the Mass is drawn from sacred music Bach had composed in earlier years, including portions of many of the cantatas he wrote for the churches of Leipzig. Scholars of Bach’s music marvel at the way he created a coherent long piece out of so many disparate short excerpts. For the 2018-19 season at Carnegie Hall, Bernard Labadie led a performance of the B Minor Mass with the singers of La Chapelle de Québec and the instrumental ensemble called Les Violons du Roy (The King’s Violins). As the hall’s radio season winds down toward the end of September, we’ll air another of the annual Carnegie Hall concerts by the National Youth Orchestra of the United States of America, a Carnegie Hall-sponsored project bringing together young players from all over the country. Michael Tilson Thomas is the conductor.
